Bay discusses alternative education, gaming, taxes

BY TRACI BONNEY
Education, gambling and taxes were among the main items of discussion at the Bay St. Louis city council meeting

Tuesday.
During the public forum, Dr. Bertin Chevis of the Hancock County Alternative School Association explained the association's purpose to the council. The association, he said, is designed to work with the public schools in dropout prevention, and to offer an alternative school setting for those who have dropped out of the public schools.

Citing statistics, Chevis said there are about 8,920 dropouts in Hancock County, 355 in the last three years. Of the more than 8,000 dropouts, about 4,950 are functionally illiterate, he added.

Chevis said the alternative school will offer both traditional and nontraditional curricula for students. The school can obtain some of its funding from federal, state and private industry grants to the alternative school association.

However, Chevis added, the school will need some of its funds from the county and city

Card of Thanks

The Youth Conference of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul at St. Clare School would like to thank the Sea Coast Echo for their articles regarding our Trick or Treat—Give the Poor Good Food To Eat project. It was a resounding success—43 young people managed to collect enough food to fill the bed of a pickup truck!

Many of the people visited were aware of our project because of the Echo, and they had their food ready by the door just waiting for the kids. Our members were really thrilled by the warm reception they received at almost every house.

We are a new group and it meant a lot to us to meet with such success on our first project. We are currently staging a Coat Drive at St. Clare School—to see which class can bring in the most coats, sweaters, hats and mittens—because our students want all children to be warm and cared for.

If anyone out there has a spare coat, sweater, hat, mittens or even a nice, warm blanket, please contact us. One of our members will be happy to come and pick it up.

Thank you again for your cooperation. It is said that one person cannot change the world, but I can guarantee that a group of 60 young people is going to make a wonderful difference in our community.

Thank you,
 Geri Richardson

Credit Union organization to address community needs

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

A town meeting will be held November 11 at St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church for the purpose of establishing a community credit union.

We are hoping not only to address the needs of the poor in this community," the Reverend Father Dailey of the Hancock County Ministers Organization explained, "but to act as a fund-raising institution for the encouragement of small businesses."

Rev. Dailey said 500 participants are needed to start the credit union. To be a member, it will cost $25 with a minimum of $25 per year. All will be invested through the East Corporate rate Credit Union in Tallahassee, Fla.

"Each person's investment will accumulate interest and be insured by the federal government up to $100,000. As a member, small loans can be made through the union."

Daily said the union differs from a bank because it will specifically address the needs of the lower income worker trying to achieve smaller goals, such as vacations, an automobile, educational needs, emergency expenses.

As a co-operative group, there will be little overhead with only one person running the group. Because of this, all profits will be redirected into the union in the form of interest and small loans will be made more affordable through a lower interest rate.

He stated, banks are in the business of lending money for a profit. They are not interested in lending $100. If they do so, it is at a much higher interest rate than a loan of $100,000.

As a community development credit union, the intent is to eventually serve as a lending institution for the encouragement of cottage industries.

"The overall scope of the union is to try to create jobs through the development of small businesses," Daily added. "We will also be offering financial counseling. We will educate people on how to budget, save and invest their earnings.

"We want to have the young people involved so that they learn early, how to gain the most from their earnings."

"Not only will the credit union serve as a power base for the poor, but it will be made of people helping people."

Rev. Dailey and Father Ken Hamilton of St. Rose de Lima will host the town meeting at 7 p.m. Monday. They will further explain the function of the credit union.

All people of Hancock County are invited to attend the meeting, as the intent is to address the needs of the entire community, said Rev. Dailey.

102 Hancock teenagers became mothers in '90

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Health Department statistics showed that 102 teenagers became mothers in 1990, a decrease from 111 in 1989.

Of this number, there was one birth to a mother between the ages of 10-14, 32 births to mothers between the ages of 15-17 and 69 births to mothers between the ages of 18-19.

Of the 102 births, 84 babies were born to white teens and 18 to non-white teens.

State records showed Hancock County's number of total live births in 1990 decreased by 11 to 479 from 1989. Of the three infant deaths that occurred in 1990, none were children of teenaged mothers.

Health Department statistics from 1989 reflect a slight decrease in live births to teenaged mothers from the preceding three years.

In Hancock County there were 89 live births to teenage mothers during 1989. Of this number, one mother was 14 years of age; four mothers were 15; six were 16; 21 were 17; 26 were 18; and 31 were 19.

Of these 89 births, 71 were white mothers and 18 were non-white mothers. Sixty-three were first births, 22 were second births and four were third births.

According to state department records, in Hancock County, there was a total of 479 births in 1989. Of these, there were four infant deaths. None of these infants were children of teenaged mothers.

The county health department offers family planning services to all residents, and for those under 20 years of age, there is no charge. For others, charges are calculated by income.

Pregnancy counseling is available, along with preventative pregnancy services, for both males and females. Examinations are given by a certified nurse practitioner and a visiting M.D.

For more information call the Hancock County Health Department at 467-6387.

The mayor asked for a specific amount for the day, but simply encouraged the council members to consider the information he had given them.

Also in the public forum, Bay St. Louis business owners Jerry Fisher and Allyson Keller and resident John Bohacheff urged the council to consider beachfront dockside gaming developments because of the potential economic benefit to the downtown area and the rest of the city.

March Gras Casino official Don Turner encouraged the council, in its deliberations about whether or not to hire a city planner, to consider hiring a planner with a background in historical preservation and replication in order to keep local historical value intact.

During his attorney's report, John Seafide reminded the council that Bay Technical Associates has requested tax exempt status for freeport warehouses.

Seafide told the council that state statute allows the city to award such an exemption to a company that has warehouses, separate from the manufacturing facility, that are used to store materials in transit out of the state.

The council discussed the request, but decided they need more information before they can make a decision.

The council also heard reports from the clerk of council, municipal clerk, public works department head and purchasing agent.

They set a workshop for November 13 in response to a request from city zoning project manager Jules Lagarde, then adjourned to November 12, 6 p.m.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Name the Baby Contest, has been creating a lot of interest this week as folks try to figure who the ten selectees are.

The contest is part of Hancock Medical Center's Celebration of Life 1991 festivities scheduled for Saturday at the Walking Track on Highway 90.

Basil Kennedy, president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, is one who knows the answers, and he is keeping quiet.

With 10 photos and 25 names to select from, and a few years of differences in ages between the time the photos were taken and now, really makes it hard to recognize who they are.

Two photos in the group are recognized by some folks, as these lads have not changed in appearance in ?? years since their baby pictures were taken.

This celebration is for all the residents and visitors to the area, and I am hoping there be a large turnout. A good time is planned.

Festivities for the Celebration of Life 1991 get underway at 11:30 a.m. with games for the kids, such as sack races, balloon tosses, egg races and face painting.

A presentation of colors will be at 12:30 along with an invocation and National Anthem.

Live entertainment will follow, and a big parade around the track will begin at 2 p.m.

There will be Second Liners, decorated baby carriages, wagons and tricycles.

A big cake cutting is set for 2:30 p.m. and at 3 p.m., awards and recognition prizes will be given out.

Hot dogs, cokes and other drinks will be available.

Among three to be recognized will be the oldest person in attendance who was born at the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital and Hancock Medical Center.

Who knows, I may still be in the running for being born at the King's Daughters and Sons hospital in 19??.

Come out and join everyone for the fun Saturday.

It will be a must game for Hancock High and St. Stanislaus Friday night, as the victor will be the high school football champs of Hancock County.

Both the Hawks and the Rocks will also be seeking a winning record for the season as they go into the game with 5-4 records in the game at Hancock High's stadium.

Hancock will enter the game fresh from a 33-0 shutout loss to East Central last week, while Stanislaus comes off a 13-7 loss to a strong Gulf Breeze, Fla., squad.

Fan support for both teams should be good Friday, as both squads deserve good support for their final performance this season.

I would suggest that fans get to the game early if they expect to get a seat, or maybe even standing room.

Stanislaus and Hancock play a wide-open type of offense, and both teams can add on the points with spectacular plays.

I am sure that head coaches Irvin Favre of the Hawks and Ken Lyons of the Rock-A-Chaws will have their squads up and ready to go.

The Tigers of Bay High will close their re-building season at home hosting long time foe, Long Beach's Bearcats.

Long Beach hasn't had a good season, but can be dangerous if not taken seriously.

A win by Bay High will give Rocky Gaudin's Tigers a good jump start for next season.

The Tigers will need and deserve all the fan support they can get Friday night.

I hope to see you at the game Friday. Remember, kickoffs are at 7:30 p.m.

FROM THE CAPITOL

The world continues to step closer to peace

As Veterans Day approaches, the world continues to step closer toward a lasting peace.

We have witnessed monumental events since last year's observance. We have participated in a war, halfway around the world; we have seen the fall of a political system that was based on oppression and deceit in the Soviet Union; and we have begun to create an era that will chronicle the threat of nuclear war, and hopefully note its demise altogether.

What are the causes of these changes?

The answer can be found in the dedication of our men and women who selflessly serve our country.

From those who fought in the first great war and World War II to those who gave their lives in Korea, Vietnam, Panama and Kuwait, we owe a debt of gratitude.

They are the keepers of our strength and the very embodiment of peace in our country. Without their service, peace would be nothing more than a vision. Because of them, the world is closer to its embracing peace.

This Veterans Day, let's celebrate their work and let's also celebrate the peace that they have brought to us through their strength.

WHEN PARENTS TAKE KIDS ALONG TO VOTE...

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Land made available to Mississippi sportsmen

South Mississippi sportsmen breathed a sigh of relief last week when the Corps of Engineers reopened about 9,000 acres along the Pascagoula River to hunting.

The Corps, which acquired the land from Scott Paper Company, closed it to public use in mid-October. In response to complaints from residents who have traditionally hunted on the lands, I, along with the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks worked with the Corps to have the land reopened.

The sale of the land to the Corps came about so quickly that no one anticipated what would happen to this November's hunting season. When the problem was brought to their attention, Corps officials immediately took steps to resolve the issue so sportsmen could begin hunting the first of this month.

The land was budgeted as part of the Corps' land purchase for the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Wildlife Mitigation Project. In the state of Mississippi, approximately 30,000 acres are to be purchased in either the Pearl, Yazoo or Pascagoula River Basin with funding to be conducted over a three-year period.

When Scott Paper Company placed the land up for sale in August, I immediately took steps to have the land purchased. In mid-August, I hosted a meeting in Gulfport for more than a dozen representatives of the Corps, the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, the Nature Conservancy, the Magnolia Hunting Club, the Governor's Office, the "Save the Pascagoula" organization and Scott Paper Company. Scott could have sold the land to anyone, but because of our unified efforts, Scott opted to sell the property to the Corps.

One of the obstacles South Mississippi outdoorsmen have overcome by the sale is that another buyer may not have been as cooperative toward hunters and recreational outdoorsmen as Scott has been. And quite frankly, the new owners could have closed the land indefinitely to everyone, as is a private property owner's right.

Because of this, we immediately seized upon the opportunity when the land was placed up for sale. The Corps had earlier identified this property as some of the best hardwood bottom land in the state.

In the next year and a half, the Corps plans to purchase an additional 3,000 acres of Scott land when funds become available.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Election commissioner resents Republican Party's interference

To the Editor,

Voters and taxpayers of Hancock County, this letter is addressed to you in regards to the current uproar the Republican Executive Committee has started over poll workers in Hancock County.

As an election commissioner for the past seven years, I have appointed the best poll workers I can find to work in District 3, whether they are Republican or Democratic.

Hancock County has reliable, honest, and dedicated poll workers and I am proud to be associated with them. I resent the Republican Executive Committee intimating that to be assured of an honest election they should choose the poll workers.

Now these are the facts. Good poll workers are hard to find. When you get a good worker, one who is willing to sit for 13 hours in an un-air-conditioned precinct, you better try to keep him, and that doesn't mean bumping him in favor of a new unproven worker.

District 3 poll workers have proven they will be there when I need them. A worker who will drive 20 or more miles back to the Courthouse at night after putting in a 13-hour day is invaluable.

Please, citizens of Hancock County, don't let the overzealous Republican Executive Committee cause Hancock County to hire unnecessary poll workers for elections.

Now just so you don't get the wrong idea, I am associated with neither political party. District 3 workers are both Republican and Democratic. They are workers because they are good and reliable and I can depend on their years of skilled service.

Betsy Nolan, District 3
Election Commissioner
Bay St. Louis

Duke lucky not to have Pres. Bush in his corner

Dear Editor,

Who does George Bush think he is? He doesn't own the Republican Party.

This is still a free country, I hope, where every individual has the right to join any political party he chooses. He doesn't have to wait for an invitation from dictator George Bush.

Now that Bush finds David Duke in his corner, he is changing corners. It now appears that chameleon George Bush is ready to sign the "quota" civil rights bill which he has vetoed so many times, just to show his contempt for David Duke.

Just remember! George Bush's idea of the "best men available" include Dan Quayle, John Tower and Clarence Thomas.

It wouldn't surprise me if he embraced Ted Kennedy to further his political ambitions. Duke is blessed not to have Bush in his corner.

Clerk's office staff courteous to seniors

To the Editor,

The other day while in Bay St. Louis, I went into the courthouse and cast my absentee vote.

It was a very long voting list, and I was so thankful for the courteous, efficient help I received from the clerk, Miss Flowers.

While there, she helped me change my voting beat from two to one. Those who are responsible for this service to senior citizens should be complimented.

Now if it rains cats and dogs on election day, I can stay home knowing I have done my duty as an American citizen and native Mississippian.

Respectfully,
Nina S. Garcia

Entertainment could stimulate year-round tourism for Coast

Dear Editor,

Your Sunday editorial on Branson both amused and pleased me... also stirred memories of how I presented our Tourism Commission with the idea of bringing these shows to the Coast during the winter months to attract tourists when we need them most.

That was '85 or '86 and again two years later. At those times Branson music shows desperately tried booking one-night stands or weekend shows anywhere in the country to keep their talent working. Their season was May through October and then on the road—no longer true.

Our first visit was in '84—been back every year—always new shows and other attractions—the prices are reasonable—lots of good food—shop till you drop—fishing and water sports—gorgeous scenery—etc.

Here on our Coast—Mississippiwide—we offer great parks to visitors—but we never tell the world about it... and believe we should.

My wife and I have toured the U.S. from coast to coast, up and down the Atlantic Seaboard and Pacific Coast and nowhere can you find what we can offer tourists:

1. 26 miles of free white sand beaches
2. Free parking on the beaches
3. Free fishing piers
4. No license required to fish in salt water
5. Reasonably priced motels
6. Good food—from $3.99 buffets to gourmet style
7. Golf, tennis and other sports year round

Of course, we lack family-style entertainment and first-rate hotels, so we need some kind of magnet to get year round tourism.

It's a shame we didn't bring Branson shows here—but other good shows exist which might be attracted here from Pigeon Forge, Eureka Springs, a few of the Branson shows, even Opryland.

Perhaps as an acknowledged community leader someone might listen to your suggesting this.

Regards,
Royce P. Kaupp

STREET TALK

Do you feel the American Indians' request for the Washington "Redskins" to change the team name is justified?

"No. That's just a fan thing. The name of the team is not meant to be derogatory."

Rich Richards

"It seems silly to me. The name of the football team is just a nickname and the tomahawk gesture isn't anything either."

John Litka

"I understand the American Indian's pride in his culture, but I think they are taking it a little too personal. It's no big deal. They are not trying to say anything."

Supervisor board increases tax office computer capacity

BY TRACI BONNEY

The county tax assessor/collector's office is increasing its computer capabilities.

Tax Assessor/Collector Eddie Murtagh requested and received approval from the board of supervisors Monday to purchase a disk drive from ICM for $4,120. He explained that the tax office is near capacity with its data storage and needs to have an additional disk drive installed as soon as possible.

Murtagh also suggested that the present and future supervisors consider setting millage aside for computer operations. The computer system in the county is growing, and you're going to need funds to properly maintain it," he pointed out.

Another suggestion for future consideration is that the board earmark mills for aerial photography. Murtagh said the county will need to change over to computer mapping eventually, and aerial photography will be essential in making the transition.

The supervisors also spoke with Bernell Smith and Louis Ladner of the Bi-County Water Association. Smith and Ladner said the association plans to furnish water service for several residences in Hancock and Pearl River counties.

The two women requested board authorization to install some of the water lines on county rights-of-way where easements for access to private property had not been obtained. The board asked that the men have the association's engineer talk with county engineer Larry Seal about the project.

The board also heard reports from Sheriff's Investigator Delbert Seay, board attorney Gerald Gex, chancery clerk Mike Nacaise, road superintendent Sam Cuevas and purchase clerk Suzette Beech; approved November 11 (Veterans Day) as a county holiday; and recessed to November 18, 9 a.m.

Bay resident arrested for attempted murder

BY TRACI BONNEY

A would-be burglar apparently got more than he bargained for Monday evening, according to Bay St. Louis Police Detective, Gus Aime.

Aime said the police department received a call that a burglary attempt had occurred at an Easterbrook Street residence, about 8:55 Monday night. When officers arrived, Marie Gladys Farve told them the would-be burglar had beaten her up and tried to smother her to steal a check she had received.

The suspect reportedly fled when Farve defended herself. "She beat him off of her, to be honest about it," Aime stated. "She used a hammer and a cane she had laying by her at the time."

Farve sustained no visible injuries, he added. Judge George Lipscomb issued an affidavit, and Officer Kurt Raymond arrested Darrel Robert Smith, 33, of 428 Labat Street, Bay St. Louis, Tuesday around 7:25 a.m. and charged with attempted murder.

Aime said Smith is in the Hancock County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. Aime is in charge of the investigation.

Hunting accident leaves Rocky Hill boy seriously injured

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Fourteen-year-old Jacob Lee of the Rocky Hill Community was accidentally shot Sunday while hunting with friends according to a sheriff department report.

Investigator Nathan Hoda with the Hancock County department said, "Lee and three other boys were walking in the woods near Road 312 when a 22-caliber rifle, being carried by one of the other boys, accidentally discharged hitting Lee."

"The bullet went through his right arm, through his right lung and into his back.

Hoda added that deputy Steve Garber responded to the 911-emergency call at 11:27 a.m. Mobile Medic transported Lee to Hancock Medical Center and HMC transferred Lee to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport.

Lee's mother, speaking from her son's bedside by telephone, Tuesday, reported Lee to be doing better.

"We don't know the extent of the injury as of yet," Mrs. Lee stated. "He did have spinal cord damage and the bullet is still lodged in the spine."

"Tomorrow they will do a

CAT-SCAN and then we may know more information.

"He is in his own room now. They removed the chest tube from his lung, which means it is ready to start healing."

"He drank a little something today for the first time."

Mrs. Lee said Jacob's friends have been lining the halls waiting to see him and she is very appreciative of everyone's concern.

"God already gave us one miracle when they got him out of those woods still alive. Now we must ask for one more."

In Mississippi, we know the value of our men and women in uniform. It was just a few months ago, we saw their value firsthand.

Those from our state who served in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Reserves and the National Guard proved their professionalism in the face of conflict. And proved it beyond a shadow of a doubt.

As our men and women came home to their families, we celebrated their return. This Veterans Day, let's celebrate them again. This time, let's honor our fathers, grandfathers, sons, mothers, daughters and grandmothers who have played a role to bring peace to many nations.

Let us also remember those who have given their lives so that we may celebrate our peace. They should never be forgotten, as they have not died without purpose. They have died helping our nation achieve a greater glory than victory. They gave their lives for peace.

On Nov. 11, Mississippians, from the hills of the north to the waves of the Gulf, from the rich, fertile Delta to the forests of Camp Shelby, will hold their heads high in remembrance and gratitude for those who have fought for justice and won the struggle for peace.

Jones picked for state ADLP

Betty Jones of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District has been selected from over 2,000 Mississippi school administrators to participate in the State Department of Education's Advanced Leadership Development Program (ALDP).

ALDP is a two-year training program designed for Mississippi's most promising school leaders. The program began in Jackson on Oct. 22 with a conference on vision building, goal setting and time management.

Six other activities are planned during the training cycle to address concerns/needs and keep participants abreast of "cutting-edge" issues. The program ends July 1993.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Carr

French cuisine has given the rest of the world many delicious dishes, some quite simple, others complicated and somewhat on the elaborate and spectacular side—and one of the simplest and most enjoyable, especially on a cold, cold day, is onion soup.

And what better fare on a cold day such as today (Tuesday morning) as I write this, than a steaming bowl of onion soup, with French bread and melting cheese atop? Here's the recipe:

SOUPE A L'OIGNON AU FROMAGE (French Onion Soup with Cheese)

3 cups thinly sliced onions
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine or olive oil, as you prefer
5 cups rich beef or poultry stock or broth or combination (or canned, if you must!)

Dashes of pepper, hot pepper sauce to your taste, salt optional

6 or more slices French bread, oven dried, not toasted
6 slices Gruyere cheese

(As for the cheese, there are differences of opinion. Some cooks prefer Swiss, others, Parmesan; but in France, especially down around the wharves in Marseilles, France, cooks insist upon Gruyere cheese—on your self and your taste buds! (There are even those who sprinkle grated cheese atop the soup.)

Saute the onions in a quite low heat in the butter or margarine until they are golden brown and fragrant, but not too brown, stirring occasionally. Add the stock, which you've heated, and season to your taste. Simmer for 20 or so minutes.

Pour into individual proof-up bowls, top each with bread slice, topped in turn with cheese, and run under the broiler until the cheese is all "melted" and bubbly and browning and all that! (6 servings)

Some cooks like to add the lily (yes, the onion is a member of the lily family, believe it or not) by sprinkling additional grated cheese over just before serving. Other cooks like to serve the soup in a tureen or other larger bowl, placing the bread slices in the bowls before ladling the soup over, and passing the grated cheese separately.

For the "real" French version of the bread—the "croutons." While the soup is simmering, preheat the oven to 325 degrees, and bake the sliced French bread, on a baking or cookie sheet, for 15 minutes, more or less, turning once, until the bread is fully dry and lightly browned. (I brush each side lightly with olive oil, before baking.)

Gingerbread House Competition sponsored by Diamondhead CC

In conjunction with the U.S. Marine Corps' "Toys for Tots" program, the Diamondhead Country Club will sponsor a "Gingerbread House Competition" to raise funds to purchase toys.

Last year entry fees, donations and ballots raised $294 for toys. Since the Marine Corps does not accept cash, toys are purchased with the money and picked up by members of the Marine Corps.

Entry forms and recipes can be obtained from the country club office. Prizes will be awarded in three categories—professional, amateur and children's divisions, plus most popular.

Entry deadline is Sunday, Dec. 15 and houses will be accepted for display on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 16 and 17. The houses will be on display for viewing through Dec. 22.

Guests may also vote for "most popular" by ballot and a $1 donation. Donations and votes for the most popular will be accepted all that week, with the final judging to be Sunday, Dec. 22 at a special Christmas buffet.

Leon Kelner and Katrina Vowell will provide music for the buffet.

Reservations are requested for the brunch (255 2525).

Community support obvious at Fenton fire department

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Smack in the center of the Fenton Fire District sits the Fenton Volunteer Fire Department station.

From the moment you enter, there is a presence of pride obvious to the eye by the organization of the building.

The walls surrounding the bays are half paneled and neatly painted. Coats, pants, hats and boots are positioned in a row of bins, ready for instant use.

A small kitchen, bath and lounge area sits separate from the bays. There is an upstairs storage area accessible by a wooden staircase in the parking bay area.

The men, sitting around a large table in the first bay drive, listened to the month's reports.

Chief Lester Curvin said prior to the existence of the Fenton Volunteer Fire Department, the area was served by Diamondhead and Kiln Fire districts.

The Fenton district is bound by the Hancock/Harrison Counties' line to the east; Diamondhead to the south; Kiln or Bayou La Terre to the west and Bell Creek Road in Dedeaux to the north.

In order to become a district, application first was made to

"We have a mutual aid agreement with each other.

The men described, just as one district runs into another, so do the arms of the men that serve those districts.

The comradery of firefighters is a natural condition and according to the Fenton department there are no lines of separation in times of emergency.

Even within the Fenton department there is a question as to who is in charge.

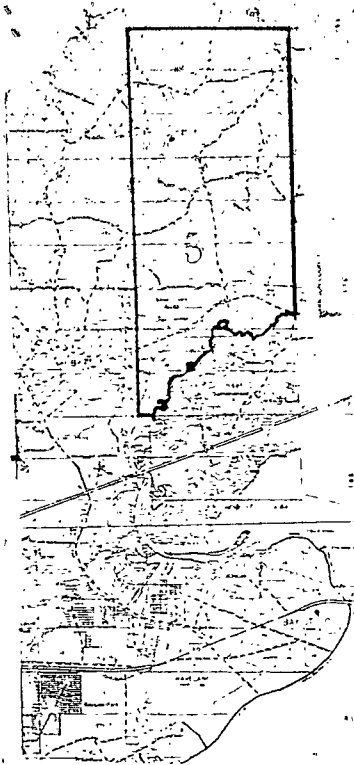

"Usually the first man on the scene takes charge," Fireman chief Tommy Pavolini said. "Everybody knows what to do."

Pavolini is a member of the Mississippi National Guard's 1355th. Shiyou jokingly told how on the day Pavolini returned from the Middle East he had his chief's hat and coffee pot waiting for him.

"They made me acting chief while Tommy was away," Shiyou reported. "Boy was I glad when he came back. Making coffee is a difficult job."

They all laughed as Pavolini walked away to get another cup of coffee.

The Fenton fire district has a 10 rating from the state fire insurance commission. It is the highest rating and home owners pay the highest in premium because of it.

service. "We need a new pumper desperately," Shiyou said. "We are looking for a 1000-gallon tank with a 1000-gallon pumper."

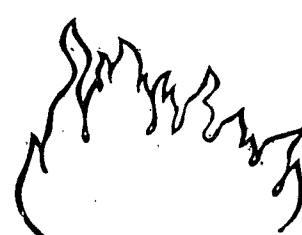

tional bay drives through the annual spaghetti dinner that is the department's major source of fund raising. "For a small community, the people really come out and support us," Curvin stated. This September the dinner brought in $3600 before expenses.

Another need, the Fenton Fire Department firefighters expressed, was for more volunteers.

At this time the department has eight to ten regularly active firefighters. "With more volunteers we could establish watch programs," Shiyou explained. "We could rotate the teams reducing the amount of hours each person presently devotes."

Curvin added, "You don't have to fight fires to help out. We need people to fill out reports and man the station. Things the elderly in the community could do."

"Anyone willing to help would be welcomed with open arms."

These men, these volunteers, are not used to receiving pats on the back for the invaluable service they silently supply.

"We come here because we feel we want to do a service for the community," Curvin said. "There is no other way to look at it."

The Fenton Volunteer Fire Department is located at the crossroads of Fire Tower Road and the Fenton-Dedeaux road.

It serves both the Fenton and Dedeaux communities. Meetings are held at 7 p.m. every second Thursday of the month for training and every fourth Thursday for business.

the Hancock County Firefighters' Association. The applying district is given a year to establish itself.

Volunteers, equipment and a location must be provided by the applying district, and if after that first year proof of need is established, the association applies to the county for the new district charter.

"That first year was extremely hard," Curvin stated. "There are no monies to help. You have to have to either buy equipment or borrow it."

The first meeting of the Fenton Volunteer Fire Department was held at the Fenton Community Center in 1982.

Their first piece of equipment was a 1952 tanker borrowed from the Diamondhead Fire Department. The men said that same tanker, on loan today at Post 58, has probably been used by three or four other fire districts.

During that same year Fenton picked up a 750-gallon tanker from the Pearlinton district.

"A firefighter has to be a wheeler-dealer," Curvin added.

The majority of fires the Fenton department combats every year are woods fires. The firefighters said, they work in conjunction with the Mississippi Forestry Commission quite often.

Medical calls were also high on the list of types of calls received, but the Fenton department has no medically trained personnel.

"Our charter," Curvin stated, "calls for us to serve in fire protection only. The county pays Mobile Medic good money to provide emergency medical services. We help all we can in directing calls, but at this time, the job is not ours to do."

The men told of how the Fenton Community is greatly served by the surrounding fire districts.

Firefighter O.J. Shiyou explained, "If we get a call and there is no one to respond, one of the others districts will pick it up."

In order to lower that rating the department has to prove that it can pump, non-stop, 250 gallons of water per minute for one hour.

The men questioned the necessity for them to supply that much water.

"We don't have any homes in this area that would demand that much water to extinguish a fire," they stated.

"We feel it would be much fairer for the state to rate you by your ability to provide that which is needed within that particular community."

At this time, the men of the Fenton Department feel they have a need for more up-to-date equipment to provide reliable

"The equipment we have breaks down on us," Pavolini added. "We spend the majority of our time in maintaining that which we have."

On an average, Curvin reported, 250-300 man hours a month are devoted to work in the station.

He said, "The majority of that time is spent working on either the station or repairs of equipment."

Drives for two of the bays were recently completed. Twelve to fifteen men worked eight hours preparing the ground and pouring the concrete for those drives.

The community provided part of the money for the addi-

Fordice wins in state, yet loses big in Hancock

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
Mississippi has a Republican governor, the first one in 115 years, going way back to Reconstruction Days.
Kirk Fordice edged out first term governor Ray Mabus by receiving 51% of the votes statewide.

Hancock County's voters stuck with Mabus, who was trying to become the first Mississippi governor to succeed himself. Unofficial returns in Hancock give Mabus a commanding edge over Fordice, 6,277-3,427.
The only Republican in Hancock County showing any strength was Lt. Governor-Elect Eddie Briggs, who defeated veteran Democrat Brad Dye in a three-man race statewide.

In Hancock County's voting Briggs received 5,209 votes, while Dye got 3,990 and Independent Henry Kirskey received 479.
In the Insurance Commissioners race, incumbent George

Dale, (D), had a commanding lead over Republican David Lee Anderson, 5,675-3,730 in Hancock.
In the District 2 Public Service Commissioners race, Sidney Barnett, (D) defeated Joe Stone, (R), 6,374-2,975.
Dale and Barnett were statewide winners.

Bourgeois resigns from Gulfview to prepare for superintendent's seat

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Hancock County school board accepted the resignation of Myrna Bourgeois Monday to allow her time to prepare for her assumption of office in January. "I plan to use the time to prepare for the position of superintendent by visiting other model schools and working with superintendent Randolph in familiarizing myself with the district office," Bourgeois explained.

Bourgeois defeated district superintendent Terrell Randolph in the October 8 primary run-off election. She will assume the office of county school district superintendent on the first Monday in January.

Randolph said, "I hope to help Mrs. Bourgeois with the transition by working through the school principals and the superintendent's office."
Bourgeois' resignation as assistant principal of Gulfview Elementary School will take effect on November 26.

In other business the school board approved:

—to accept the low quote of $2,100 for the purchase of an air conditioning recovery unit for the Auto Mechanics class at the Vo-Tech Center;

—to accept the low quote of $3,367 from Rebel Sound for the relocating and adding of speakers to the present sound system at Hancock High School;

—to pay to Peoples Bank $3,651.54 for the handling of bonds for 1990-91;

—the final payment of $280.88 to Tompkins, Hansen & Fields for work on the high school concession building;

—the final payment of $2,940 to Dillon Construction Company for work on the high school concession building;

—payment of $5,863.50 to Over the Counter Systems for an emergency purchase computer repair, of which all but the $500 deductible will be reimbursed by insurance coverage;

Counting votes

Among those operating the vote counting machines Tuesday night were from right, Pam Metzler, Hancock County Circuit Court Clerk; and Kendra Flowers, Lila Taylor and Karen Ruhr, deputy clerks. Votes from the 28 county precincts were tabulated before 9:30 p.m. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Children will view two finger plays and a flannel board story, and will receive a coloring sheet to take home.
Programs and activities are designed for pre-school-age children three to five years of age who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group. Programs last approximately one hour, depending upon subject matter and activity.
Further information is available by calling Sandra Ladner at the City-County Library at 467-5282, or Karen Peoples at the Waveland Library at 467-9240.

Bay High Athletic Club 'Mullet Bowl' classic revived

The Bay High Athletic Club has announced plans to sponsor the new "Mullet Bowl" football classic on Thursday, Nov. 14 at Tiger Stadium. The club's bowl committee chose to revive the popular bowl game that was discontinued some years ago and selected to use the name, "Mullet Bowl," because of its past popularity and name recognition in the southern area of Mississippi.

Competition will begin at 5 p.m. between Boyet, Junior High from Slidell and D'Iberville 7th and 8th grade teams.

Half-time for this game will feature the acclaimed Rebelette

Dance Team of Boyet. The Mullet Bowl court will be presented at 6:30.

The Mullet Bowl game will begin at 7 p.m. between Bay St. Louis and Picayune. Joe Von Antz, president of the athletic club said, "The Mullet Bowl will be an annual affair in Bay St. Louis, and proceeds will be used by the club to support the programs of the club to benefit Bay High athletes."

Hawks plan to rock the Rock-A-Chaws

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock High is planning to offset any offensive attack by St. Stanislaus Friday night with a strong defense, Coach Irvin Favre reported.

"The Rock-A-Chaws have a highly potent offense," Favre stated. "Their quarterback, Bill Dreher, has thrown 16 touchdown passes this year. This is a phenomenal number to throw in a season."

"When you see that number, the first thing that comes to mind is to have a good pass defense. We have to stop Dreher."

This is the last game of the season for both teams and there is presence of inter-county rivalry which gives the game added meaning.

"It is also an important game for Hancock, for if we win this one and Pearl River Central beats D'Iberville, which is very likely with a 9-0 record for the Blue Devils, we will be in the playoffs against Stone County."

Favre said the Hawks may have a few tricks up their sleeve, but primarily HHS will be playing a blocking game.

"We have to block the stunting game. We must stop the linebackers' stunts, if not, there will be a lot of problems."

He said the Hawks will be playing with the same injuries as last week. "We will have to see how the rest of the week goes. Some will play and some won't."

"Terrance Goff will not be playing. As of prior to last Friday's game, he is no longer on the Hancock High School football team."

"When you see someone like a Goff, with his record, it is a hard thing to do, but I felt my decision to dismiss him was for the welfare of the team."

"We have been using a lot of underclassmen in play recently. We don't have a lot of seniors on the team, and there have been a lot of injuries, but they are playing well."

Favre said Friday's game has been declared "Seniors' Appreciation Night." Seniors who have participated in the football program, players, band members and cheerleaders will be honored.

Hancock and St. Stanislaus kick off at 7:30 p.m. in Hawk Stadium tomorrow.

Stanislaus readies for Hancock High

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey up Highway 603 Friday night to play the Hawks of Hancock High.

The championship in high school football is at stake, with both teams sporting identical 5-4 records.

A victory could also mean a winning season for either team.

Ken Lyons, Stanislaus head coach, in commenting on Hancock said, "The Hawks are a lot like us. They play a spectacular 'big play' type of game and run from a winged T-formation."

"They are also capable of a 'run and shoot' offense and run misdirection plays well. Hancock has some of the outstanding running backs in the division."

Last week Stanislaus fought a hard defensive battle against the Gulf Breeze Dolphins, losing by a 13-7 score.

Division 8 Class 4-A district is well balanced, according to Lyons who said, "Even the two bottom teams are good, and the top teams can be competitive with the 5-A members on a spot basis."

Lyons reports his quarterback Bill Dreher leads the coast in passes for touchdowns with 16. Wide receiver Mickey Quinlan is also a leader with nine touchdown pass catches. Junior Jeremiah Fuhrer is third on the coast with five pass receptions for touchdowns.

"I am hoping several of the Stanislaus players will receive football scholarships. The game with Hancock will be the last in high school football for 17 Rock players who are seniors," Lyons said.

Lyons feels the biggest rivalry in the county now is between Stanislaus and Hancock High, especially since both are in the same district and class of play.

Stanislaus should have all of its players ready for Friday night action. Lyons said, "I know we still have some bruises, and every coach faces the same problem when the last game of the season arrives. I am hoping everyone will be ready for the Hancock game."

Lyons stated, "I am hoping the Rock-A-Chaw supporters will be in attendance, as it should be a good game between Stanislaus and Hancock."

Game time is at 7:30 p.m.

PRC Lady Cats prepare for season

The fall basketball season will be a learning experience for Polly Kirkland's Pearl River Community College Lady Wildcats.

With only one returning starter, Kirkland said she hopes her young squad can get some experience under their belts before division play heats up next semester. The Lady Cats will face only four South Division contenders during fall.

"We've got some good players," Kirkland said, "but we will be very inexperienced. When we get some playing time and learn to play together, hopefully we will do well."

Sabrina Youngblood, who averaged 12 points per game last year and led the club in rebounds, will return to the court for the Lady Cats. The Lady Cats posted a 17-8 season last year.

Kirkland's top seven includes Youngblood, 5'9" from Lumberton; Tomika Brown, 5'6" from George Washington Carver, La.; Melody Crosby, 5'8" from Bowling Green, La.; Karen Dahmer, 6' from North Forrest; Gwen Herrin, 5'9" from Pearl River, La.; Toni Rancifer, 5'3 1/2" from Purvis; and Aliçe Spivey, 5'9 1/2" from Pearl River Central.

Kirkland said the starting five will be selected from this list. Herrin and Dahmer got in some playing time last year but very little.

Also on the PRC team is Hancock High School graduate Greta Lader, a 5'6 1/2" sophomore.

At Bowling Green in Angie, La., Crosby made first team all-district four years and was named to the overall Louisiana all-tournament team. She also made it to the South AA and State AA all-tournament team.

Crosby averaged 24.5 points per game and 14.5 rebounds. In four years at Bowling Green she scored a school record of 2,343 points.

Holder, a 5'9" wing for the Lumberton Lady Panthers last year, made all-district and won the school's Panther Award.

Rancifer made all-district and several tournament teams while averaging 18 points per game.

Spivey made all-area, all-district and was Pearl River Central's defensive player of the year and free-throw champ.

Kirkland, going on her fifth year as Lady Cat head coach, said this year's team is lacking the size of past PRC teams.

"We don't have much size this year," she said. "We're smaller than we've ever been."

The Lady Cats will open their 1991-92 season Nov. 9 against East Mississippi at Scooba. The Lady Cats will return home to host Faulkner State (Ala.) Nov. 12 in Marvin R. White Coliseum on the Pearl River Community College campus in Poplarville.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Find a deep hole.

That's the word for this week if you want to find the fish.

It seems that the cold weather this week has sent the fish into water depths (at least over your head) that give a more constant temperature. The deeper the water, the less fluctuation there will be in the temperature of the water.

This makes a lot of sense as the average fish has not been in school long enough to learn how to change into long underwear nor has he learned how to use an ice pick. So, to make a short story long, (or is it just the other way around?) fish the holes.

The few hardy fishermen that have ventured out this week tell me that great big schools of white trout are showing up in the Louisiana Marsh.

The most productive areas have been Grand Pass, Creole Gap, and Ile La Something or Another.

The bait to use is dead shrimp until the white trout gang up in numbers, then switch to cut bait.

Be sure that when you use cut bait that you do not use a piece that is bloody as this tends to attract large toothy critters that mess up your tackle and run off white trout.

Not only are white trout being caught in the holes but good numbers of fair size croakers are showing up as well.

For those folks that don't like the idea of going such a distance from shore you might find the investment in a depth finder worth its weight in fish.

A close-to-shore place that has produced a lot of fishin' fun are the pilings of the R.R. bridge. There are some nice size sheepshead being caught by these pilings.

The turtle heard you; you said uggh how can you eat those striped convict fish?

Well, try this on for size: Take one sheepshead, remove the gut and wash out the cavity. Don't scale him. Don't cut off his head. Just place the whole fish in a pot of boiling salt water for five minutes.

Remove the fish after boiling it for five minutes and place it on a large tray. Let it cool down a little.

You will find that you can remove the skin containing the scales with a fork. After the skin and scales have been removed you will find that the meat can be easily removed with a fork.

You are gonna need about four cups of fish meat. One pound of butter; one pound of onions; one whole clove of garlic; one box (8 ozs.) grated Romano or Parmesan (you know the kind that I mean) cheese; one pint of half and half; one 12 oz. package of fettucini noodles; salt and pepper to taste.

Now that you have the basic ingredients you are ready to cook. Step one is to chop up the onions and garlic and cook them in the one pound of butter till they are clear.

This should take about five to ten minutes. When this is done add the half and half and simmer for three minutes.

Add the cheese, and whatever other seasonings you might desire. Stir on a low fire for another two to three minutes.

Finally, stir in the four cups of fish and mix the entire concoction in with the cooked fettucini.

Garnish with a little parsley and dig in.

This should feed four turtles or six to eight ordinary people.

This week's wonderful wise words: Just about everything that comes from the sea is good to eat.

Fat turtles swim more better.

Picayune Fall Classic, Fest scheduled for November 16

The first annual Picayune Fall Classic, a 10K race and two-mile fun run/walk, will be Saturday, Nov. 16.

The race, sponsored by Crosby Memorial Hospital, starts at 8 a.m. All runners, race walkers and wheelchair athletes are invited to participate. Registration starts at 7 a.m.

Entry fee is $8 for Gulf Coast Running Club members, $10 for non-members. Late registration fee for everyone is $12.

The course, which leads through residential Picayune, is shaded and mostly level. Water will be served at each mile on the course. Awards include long-sleeved t-shirts, cash prizes and medallions.

Participants are encouraged to bring their families. After the race, there will be horse-drawn wagon rides for the children, door prizes awarded, and refreshments.

The race finishes with the start of Picayune's Fall Fest, which will include craft booths, drawings for cash giveaways, food and family entertainment. The highlight of the fest will be a concert at 6 p.m. with Lee Greenwood.

For more information about the race or to receive a race application, call David Guizerix at 798-4881 during the day, or (504) 847-1701 in the evening. Concert and Fall Fest information is available from the Picayune Chamber of Commerce at 798-3122.
